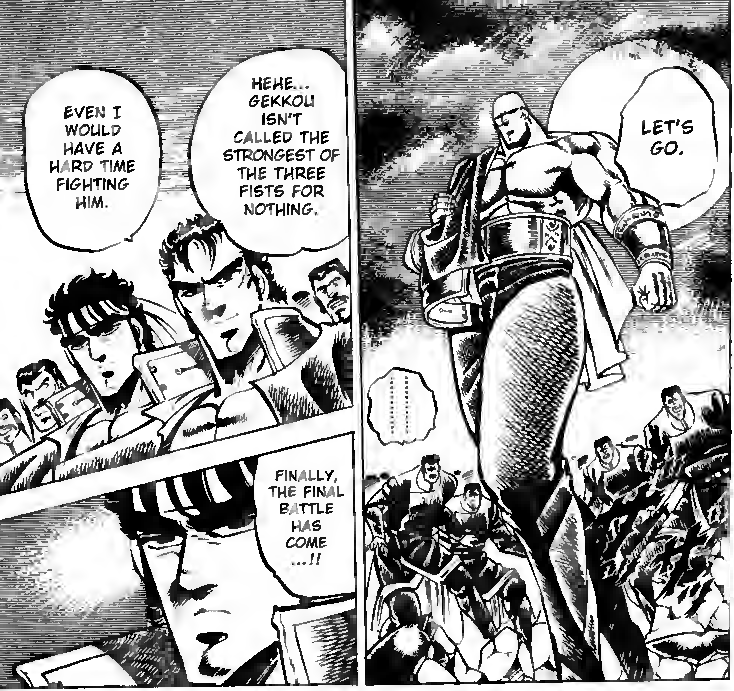
ドドドド
I JUST FOUND THE NAVEL OF THE SPHERE AND USED THE SPEED OF THE ROLLING BALL TO ADD POWER TO MY PUNCH
IT WAS NOTHING

But finding this point is next to impossible, and even a skilled diamond cutter needs about thirty years of training to locate it.
From "Molecular Composition Theory" by the Mummel Publishing Company
Everything in this world is made of an assembly of molecules and each material has their own unique composition. If the material is struck where the molecular cobesion is weakest, the molecular chain reaction will cause the material to be easily broken. This spot which can be referred to as the navel, is scientifically called the Plutzfon Point. Even a diamond, the hardest material on the planet, can be turned to dust in one hit if it is struck at its Plutzfon Point.



EVEN I WOULD HAVE A HARD TIME FIGHTING HIM.
HEHE... GEKKOU ISN'T CALLED THE STRONGEST OF THE THREE FISTS FOR NOTHING.
FINALLY, THE FINAL BATTLE HAS COME ...!!
LET'S GO.

WE'RE ALMOST AT THE SUMMIT !!
YOU'RE AMAZING, GEKKOU!! NOW THAT YOU'RE TEAMING UP WITH MOMO, THERE'S NO NEED TO FEAR JAKI!!
